

Phillip Taylor, ACMA, CFE
Managing Director – Asia Pacific

Phillip joined Matson Driscoll & Damico in 1994, working in the London office. He left in 1997 to work for the London Stock Exchange and subsequently the Financial Services Authority, investigating potential breaches of the Listing Rules. Phillip rejoined the London office in April 2001 and, in 2003, he relocated to open and manage the Singapore office.

Phillip speaks fluent French and worked on numerous assignments across Europe and North Africa whilst based in London. Since relocating to Singapore, Phillip has been appointed on assignments in over 20 countries within the Asia Pacific region.

Phillip gained catastrophe experience following Typhoon Maemi in 2003 and the Asian Tsunami in 2004, where he was actively involved in advising the Thai insurance industry as well as working on claims in Thailand, Sri Lanka, Malaysia and the Maldives. Phillip also gained significant catastrophe experience in 2011 working on claims arising from the Queensland flooding, the Christchurch earthquakes, the Great Tohoku Japan earthquake and the Thailand flooding. He has also been engaged to prepare numerous expert witness reports for arbitrations and courts.

Phillip has conducted seminars and training sessions on a variety of topics including business interruption measurement issues, business interruption values, crisis management and product contamination to claims managers, underwriters, loss adjusters and lawyers.
