Educational/Professional Background

Ms. Yang graduated, magna cum laude, from the Wuhan University in 1999, with an LLB degree. She received her master degrees of laws from the Zhejiang University and the University of Wisconsin in 2002 and 2004 respectively.

Ms. Yang joined in the firm in 2013. Prior to that, Ms. Yang worked as an associate in Jun He Law Offices Beijing Office and Haiwen & Partners Shanghai Office. Ms. Yang has been advising both domestic and foreign clients on complex and highly challenging international commercial disputes.

Ms. Yang has successfully represented a domestic solar hi-tech company in a large sales dispute against its Japanese supplier before the HKIAC, obtaining a favorable settlement for the client.

Ms. Yang advised a large-scale state-owned technology trading enterprise and a major state-owned power plant construction company on complicate quality and delay issues arising out of several overseas power plant projects. She has successfully obtained a favorable multi million U.S. dollar settlement in one of the projects, and thus avoiding the potential SIAC arbitration.

She also represented a major domestic automobile company in a series of contract disputes against several Egypt companies before the ICC, the CIETAC and domestic courts. The cases involve highly complex procedural and substantive issues with hundreds of millions of U.S. dollars at stake.
