Educational/Professional Background

Before she was admitted to China Bar, she was a college teacher, teaching legal English and law. She started her practice in 2004, advising clients in connection with finance requirements, whose expertise in banking and finance enables her to provide practical and commercial solutions to a wide range of complex business law issues. She has successfully represented the interests of many well-known international and domestic financial institutions and corporations in a broad variety of dispute contexts (such as letters of credit, guarantees, factoring, forfeiting, supply chain finance etc.), in domestic and foreign courts of the first instance and appellate levels, as well as a variety of arbitral tribunals. She has worked for most of Chinese banks and many international banks.

Mediation Style

She is able to quickly identify the needs and expectations of the parties.
